NEWS OF STATE.

CLARKSVILLE NOTES.

The interest aroused over the election in Kentucky last week by many of the citizens of this place is but a gentle reminder to those persons eligible to vote that some months ago the charter of Clarksville was changed and election for municipal offices postponed until some time next year. As the new year is scarcely two months away, it becomes necessary for colored electors and leaders true and tried, to consider ways and means by which the election of a colored representative to the city council will be assured. For many years Afro-American citizenship has had such an official, but the change of the charter changes the mode of election of aldermen from the wards to the city-at-large, making the election uncertain.

Guthrie, Ky., Clarksville's next door neighbor, will take unto itself the dry pledge and henceforth be found on the "water wagon" after next Saturday, the sixteenth. Many Clarksvillians will no doubt look askance, as a constant migration to the above named place has been in vogue since last July. It is needless, however, to call the attention of those with bibulous desires that Hopkinsville is still on the map.

November—the month with days dark, cold and dreary; rains and winds never weary—comes forth in this community as a rival to June for prospective brides. Announcements unauthorized have it that the central portion of the city, flanked both by the East End on one side, and "Gallus Hollow" the other, will produce surprises in this hymeneal line. One of the prospective benedicts is well known in Nashville, but the others have not yet had our acquaintance.

Recalling the phrase "two as one" will exactly fit the business adventure of Ed. Broadus, not in the marital sense, but in the contraction of his two shining parlors into one. Mr. Broadus has for some time conducted two establishments and enjoyed good business, but the dryness of the city, the weather, and the closeness of the money marts caused many of his patrons to shine their own shoes.

Monetary matters in Clarksville no doubt are but a counterpart of what is happening all over the United States. Salaries are being paid in checks and clearing house certificates, which are accepted as money by the merchants. Quite a unique entertainment was the "Mum Party" on Monday night at St. Paul Zion Church, the vanguard of a series of entertainments, for the purpose of liquidating an old debt. On entering persons were told that the ban on talking for thirty minutes was in effect and any infraction would cost five cents, not in clearing house certificates, but real money. A good sum was realized.

From all parts of the city members of Warfield Lodge and friends arrived at the Masonic Temple Tuesday night to attend the dedicatory services. An informal reception was held by the reception committee, after which there was speaking by several members and a banquet. The Temple, when improvements are completed, will be one of the neatest in the state.

Miss Carrie Patton, of Chicago, arrived last Tuesday and will spend several weeks, the guest of Mrs. Geo. Harper.

Mr. Ned Smith, who attended the C. M. E. Conference at Chattanooga, returned Tuesday.

Mr. L. A. Dabney returned from Memphis Wednesday.

The Ladies' Embroidery Club was entertained by Mrs. Johnnie Williams Saturday evening. After two hours had been spent in work the ladies passed to the dining room, where a two-course menu was served, consisting of salmon salad, peas, beaten biscuits, pickles, sherbert and cake. Miss Cordelia Butler was guest of the club.

Miss Idella Hutton is spending the week at Mt. Pleasant, the guest of Miss Etna Howland.

Miss Rebecca Alexander was the guest of Miss Ceppie Miller last Saturday.

Kitty Brook and Edith Morris spent three days at Rockvale.

COMMUNION SETS.

VESSELS WITH WHICH TO ADMINISTER
THE LORD'S SUPPER.

THE most sacred ordinance that can be observed by all churches is that known as the Lord's Supper or, in other words, Sacrament. We do not think it is in keeping with these sacred ordinances of the Lord's Supper in church now-a-days to try to administer it with out the proper vessels.

Every Church Ought to Have a
First-Class Communion Set.

They can have them made out of the best grade of quadruple-plated table silverware if they desire them. The Church Supply Department of the National Baptist Publishing Board has just received from their factory a new lot of this high-class ware, and would take pains in showing them to any one.

The Prices are Within Reach of All and Terms are Reasonable.

No church ought to be willing to use glass dishes or the like for these ordinances when they can have the best grade of silver at moderate prices.

Mrs. Susan B. Thompson left last Thursday for Hopkinsville, Ky., to spend a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Phil. H. Brown. On her return she will move to her home in Nashville, near Fisk University.

SUNSHINE HOME NOTES.

Miss Marie Coleman has come to fill the vacancy of Miss A. E. Pace. We are indeed glad to welcome Miss Coleman to our home and office again.

We were especially favored in our Wednesday afternoon consecration meeting in that we had the presence of two returned missionaries. Rev. Bro. Murff, who is in the States in the interest of the work in South Africa, under the National Baptist Foreign Mission Board, gave us a very interesting talk concerning the needs and condition of both the natives and the missionaries. He exhibited the work of children in their care, showing how much could be done if they only had means with which to work. Several personal donations were given him for his work.

Miss Gertrude Smith, who has been at work in Cuba, is here resting and preparing to return. She is under the Pentecostal Board. She gave a very beautiful Bible lesson, emphasizing the need of real consecration to God and his service.

Miss Florence Burnett, one of our Secretaries, returned last Thursday night after a six-week's visit to her old home and other points in Louisiana. Miss Burnett returned very much inspired after meeting many of the people hungry for Bible study and anxious to hear of the good work being done. She also visited Leland University, New Orleans, her old Alma Mater, where she was cordially welcomed.

Mrs. Edwin D. Johnson, of Chicago, was the guest of Sunshine Home, from Thursday a. m. to Saturday p. m. Mrs. Johnson is a member of the Executive Board of the Women's Baptist Home Mission Society, whose headquarters are in Chicago. She is also a member of the Committee on Fire-side School. She came to investigate the work and to help in the furthering of the same. She visited the National Baptist Publishing House, where the printing for the school is done, and was very much pleased with everything there. Her visit in the home was very satisfactory and she left very much gratified concerning the way in which the work had been carried on during the twelve months' absence of Sister J. P. Moore.

Friday afternoon we invited the sisters from all around to come and meet Mrs. Johnson, and at the appointed hour we were delighted to see a room filled with women with earnest faces and anxiety to hear her message. An offering of $1.76 was taken for the Day Home.

On Friday evening we had a very pleasant call from Rev. S. E. Griggs.

On Saturday after five o'clock lunch and the usual twilight service that follows, Mrs. Johnson gave her parting talk to the family, commending them for the very excellent way in which they were keeping their records and encouraging them to continue faithful.

THE MAN FROM BUFFALO

Says Nashville and the South Need
Men with Backbone to Supply the Shoestrings They Now Have.

As a result of a news item appearing in the Nashville Globe of a few issues ago, one of the close observers of the conditions in the South, and especially the news columns of two of Nashville's leading papers, makes some comment upon the attitude of the Negro towards protecting the innocent children and our women. The letter was received by a member of the Globe force, being addressed to Mr. Henry A. Boyd, and comes from the pen of a very energetic Buffalonian in the person of Mr. C. A. Dickson, who has identified himself with some of Nashville's business enterprises, yet he has never visited the South, but is very much impressed with some of the movements begun down here and in some of the men who have visited his section of the country. In the letter, which was written during the month of October, Mr. Dickson deplores the seeming weakness on the part of the Negro men of the South in upholding law and order.

Mr. Dickson said in part, "In the Globe, the article about the white rape fiend, makes my blood boil. I understand there are about 15,000 Negroes in Nashville and not one has the courage or manhood to resent the rape. By the article it appears the fiend is known and is still at liberty. What manner of man is the child's father that he does not have the white man arrested?" He continues at length in this way, but makes one mistake in the number of Negroes dwelling in Greater Nashville by about 30,000,
